Congrats on making it this far. Now that you have an understanding of how to design applications within bubble, we're now going to move on to the trading bot development section of the course!

We'll see you over there!